Hannes has successfully completed a four week course of General English based on an integrated skills approach which incorporated such diverse topics as a genetic research debate, designing a company and writing a C.V. The course exploited a variety of challenging and authentic and semi-authentic materials and Hannes has had the opportunity to further develop his productive and receptive skills in addition to broadening his vocabulary and developing his knowledge of idiomatic and colloquial expressions. Hannes also took part in various activities aimed at enhancing oral performance including the presentation of a TV news programme.

Throughout his course Hannes has worked extremely hard and has made full use of all the material presented to him. He has integrated very well with other students, expressing his thoughts and opinions with great clarity. He has worked hard to further broaden his vocabulary and knowledge of idiomatic expressions.

Hannes can continue to keep in touch with the language by: listening to authentic radio broadcasts and watching and listening to authentic TV programmes. In both cases he would profit by recording short pieces of the programme (perhaps 3 minutes) and then reviewing each piece with increasingly focused study. Informal conversation practice whenever possible will also help. It has been a pleasure teaching Hannes and we wish him every success for the future.
